

Friday 10th July - What to do today

IMPORTANT! Parent or Carer – Read this page with your child and check that you are happy with what they have to do and with any weblinks or use of the Internet required. If necessary, prepare a letter blank for your child to use.

1. Story time

Read The Rag Doll to the Heedless Child by David Harsent. (Have a conversation with your child about the language use – do they understand the meaning of these words?)

- Read the glossed words.
- How is the doll feeling in the poem?
- How can we tell that?

2. Making inferences

Think about what the child in the poem could have done to upset the doll.

- Read the suggestions on What could the child have done?
- Add any further ideas of your own.

3. Writing a letter

You are going to write a letter from the rag doll to the child. Use the letter blank to write your letter.

- Give the child a name.
- Get the doll to say how she is feeling.
- Get the doll to say why she is so sad.
- Get the doll to say why she still really loves the child though!
- Add a drawing at the bottom of the page.

Now try this Fun-Time Extra

- The heedless child is very sorry for what they have done. Write an apologetic reply to the doll from the child.

The Rag Doll to the Heedless* Child

I love you
with my linen heart.

You cannot know how these

rigid lumpy arms shudder
in your grasp,

or what tears dam up against these blue-eye smudges at your capriciousness**.

At night I watch you sleep;
you'll never know

how I thrust my face
into the steam

of your warm breath;
and how

love-words choke me behind this sewn-up mouth.

David Harsent

* heedless – careless, uncaring, thoughtless

** capriciousness – moodiness, keeping changing your mind.

What could the child have done to make the rag doll sad?

Maybe they...

- haven't played with her for ages
- have spilt a drink on her
- haven't repaired a rip in her clothes
- haven't tucked up with her at night for a while
- forgot to take her on a sleep-over
- ignored her birthday
- have let a careless friend borrow her for ages
- have stuffed her at the bottom of the toy chest and forgotten her
- have got toothpaste on her
- have left her out in the garden overnight

Can you think of other reasons the rag doll might be sad about the child?
